POLI'S

Manager Poli has arranged a most unique program for the vaudeville program at Poli's, the last half of the week, in the Six Dancing Girls and Their Collies. This is rightly called "The Act Beautiful" and it is a distinct novelty to Bridgeporters. Six winsome girls in a dainty dancing diversion are featured with six beautiful collies who play a part in the execution of the figures and poses with almost human intelligence.

Robert Connors, former a stock star here and now a favorite of the films, "Stoning," a gripping drama of pathos and power. Other photoplay features will be two reels of the famous Pathé Comedy, "Bobby," and a comedy of those screamingly funny "Ham" comedies.

A special added feature will bring back Sam Dody and Jack Allman, favorites locally at a brand new of dancing. The many friends of this clever pair will warmly welcome their return.

The last three days of the Kendal Weston Players will see these talented players in Edward F. Payne's dainty playlet "A Forgotten Melody."

Other vaudeville features will be Helen North, singing comedienne; Rogers, Pollock & Rogers, in Wood Brothers, athletes extraordinary.

PLAZA

Rivaling on general merit the bill which was responsible for capacity audiences at every performance at the Plaza the foremost of the week, comes another with the Four Belles in the headline, capacity to endeavor to bring in even better business than did its predecessor. The Four Belles is a quartet of pretty young damsels in an aerial novelty that is claimed to be one of the most unique and beautiful to adorn the stage of variety at the present time. The girls, each and every one of them are skilled gymnasts and their stunts, many of which are exceedingly dangerous have won for them an enviable reputation in the vaudeville world, although their act is yet comparatively new.

As an added attraction James Grady and company, in their famous skit entitled "The Toll Gate," have been secured. "The Toll Gate" is recognized as one of the cleverest comedy dramatic skits ever written and with such stars as James Grady and his supporting company, little need be feared as to the outcome of its management.

Jordan and Dorothy, a clever young chap and a charming maid, have a real offering of song and chatter that is scheduled to land "head first" into the market of popularity on the opening performance. Both are delightful entertainers and the total originality of their number makes it the more pleasing.

Messy and Foley, a couple of make-believe darkies, a singing and dancing diversion of which much is to be expected since they have scored instant success on all previous engagements and splendid reports have followed the announcement of their booking, will also appear.

"The Locked Door," a thrilling fire prevention romance in three reels, taken in collaboration with the fire department and assisted by the police department of New York city, will be a special attraction.

Charlie Chaplin in "Mabel's Busy Day" and "The Hired Girl" will be shown in conjunction with the big feature.

EMPIRE

Hundreds of thousands the world over remember Kipling's immortal poem, "The Vampire," which inspired the gripping, intensely interesting all powerful drama "A Fool There Was" from the pen of Porter Emerson Browne which as a photodrama, proved at once to be the most powerful masterpiece and which due to the many requests received by the management of this theatre has been booked for the feature attraction at Keeney's Empire theatre today. Edward Jose, former leading man with the "Divine Sarah" and Theda Bara, the original Vampire woman portray the leading role in this all powerful masterpiece of the silent drama.

Edward Jose portrays in a masterly manner the "Toot" who forsakes family and friends for the artless sensual creature, known in the play as the "Vampire" who is played by Theda Bara, former leading lady at the theatre Antoinette, France.

Throughout this sensational production the audience is held spellbound by the most intense, intense situations and gripping thrills.

The feature is without a doubt the most interesting and one of the most powerfully dramatic of all the features ever produced for the screen.

A number of other silent and entertaining photoplay features will also be shown rounding out an altogether pleasing and entertaining photoplay program.

A delegation of men from the Washington Navy Yard called on President Wilson and stated that unless a mail was sent out from the Washington yard on July 21 it cancelled all the mechanics will strike.

Mr. M. Morris, American minister to Sweden, who is home on leave of absence, conferred with Secretary Lansing.

The Paris Journal has been sold to syndicate headed by E. De Wendel for a price said to be $4,500,000.

State Grange Meeting.
A summer field meeting of the Connecticut State Grange will be held in Ridgefield on Thursday, August 19, on the grounds of the Ridgefield club. Several well known speakers upon agricultural subjects will be heard.

Found on Car Track.
Susie Pearl of Norwalk, aged 18, was found on a track last week lying across the tracks on the Woodbury trolley line, seeking sleep or rest. Susie said she did not walk to this lonely spot near the Woodbury reservoir, but was brought along the Woodbury road in a wagon by two Woodbury men, who had taken her from Woodbury, presumably on the pretense of getting her a job at one of the Woodbury hotels. While on the way over the two men became embroiled in an altercation and came to blows. This frightened the girl and she got out of the wagon and ran until exhausted, and then lay down to sleep.

Petition in Bankruptcy.
Michael Lubrano a hotelkeeper in Norwalk, has filed a petition in bankruptcy and made oath that he did not have the money to pay the filing fee. Coleman Smith building on the roof of the barber shop of George Lynch, tore away and burned shingles on the spot it hit and knocked out several feet of plaster.

In Plumtree, a slight boat coming through an open window went across the room and knocked pans, pots and kettles from the sink in the kitchen of the home of Mrs. Seth Sturges.

Lightning struck in many places in and about Danbury, Monday afternoon, damaging houses, splintering trees and frightening people.

A bolt of lightning struck the residence of William S. Reynolds, Nails solidly embedded were pulled out of the woodwork; plastering ripped off and thrown about rooms; holes made in the walls as cleanly as though made by an auger; window shades torn into ribbons and a feather bed, always considered a safe place of refuge ripped open and the feathers scattered about the room. Mr. Reynolds estimates that the house was damaged to the extent of $200 or $300. He has insurance sufficient to cover the loss. The bolt entered the dwelling by way of the chimney, throwing the bricks in all directions but leaving about one-third of the chimney standing.

The residence of A. H. Hale was visited by a bolt during the early part of the storm. It entered the house near the chimney, knocking off 12 bricks, and making a hole of considerable size in the roof. He believed that the bolt must have followed the gas pipes down into the cellar and into the ground, as no other trace of the fluid has been found in the house.

New Corporations.
The Island Beach Corporation of Greenwich, has filed a certificate showing an increase of its capital stock, from $5,000 to $100,000, with a corresponding increase of its shares from 50 to 1,000.

The Stoughton Process Company of Greenwich has incorporated for the purpose of owning, controlling or dealing in any processes for generating heat in liquid, or the combination of a liquid with a solid fuel, etc. The amount of capital stock with which the corporation intends to begin business is $1,000. The incorporators are Joseph E. Johnson, Jr., Scarsdale, N. Y.; Burr A. Robinson, Dobbs Ferry, N. Y.; and James S. Macgregor, New York.

Car Turned Over.
The skidding of John H. Mulliken's automobile on soft tar at Norwalk Wednesday evening, caused the machine to turn turtle and Mr. Mulliken, who is of New Canaan, with three companions of that place, were thrown out.

Mulliken suffered a fracture of the left hip, the machine escaped with minor cuts and bruises. The car was righted and the only apparent damage was to the windshield, which was broken.

Dangerously Shot.
Louis Tarlov, 12-year-old son of Mrs. Rose Tarlov, of Norwalk is in a critical condition at the Norwalk hospital as the result of a shooting accident which occurred Friday evening.

The boy was shot in the abdomen and a bullet passed through from one side of the body to the other and hit the body, passing out through the back. The incisions were perforated in three places. The shooting was entirely accidental and occurred when the Winchester rifle which the boy was carrying, went off.

Snake Causes Accident.
Charles H. Ward, one of the rural carriers at the Bethel postoffice was driving along the Glen, in Redding Friday when he heard a pouncing and hounding in the rear and saw bearing down on him, a team of horses attached to a farm wagon. It was a runaway. The road is narrow and Mr. Ward drove his horse onto the side of the road as far as was possible. Meanwhile the team crashed into the lighter wagon in which Mr. Ward sat. The driver of the runaway team was Frank Hall, of Redding. According to Mr. Hall, one of his team is a three-year old. He went on to say that while driving along the Glen the horses saw a large black snake and came to a stop. Tall then got down from his seat and taking his whip started to beat the snake. The young colt became frightened at the noise of the whip and the team started.

INTERNATIONAL EGG LAYING CONTEST

The thirty-seventh week of the laying contest at Storrs showed some significant changes among the ten leading pens. Jonathan Collinson's Black Leghorns from Garstang, England moved from tenth place to ninth. Tom Barron's pen of White Leghorns from Catforth, England, moved from fourth place to third. The chief change of all occurred with the two pens at the top. Ed Cam's pen of White Wyandottes from Houghton, England, has been the leading pen since the sixth week or since early in December. Hillview Poultry Farm's Rhode Island Reds from St. Albans, Vt., has been a close second since the fifth week of the contest, except however, that they dropped down to third place from the thirtieth to the thirty-third week. It was not until the current week of the competition that this Vermont pen has been able to take the lead and even though they are ahead by the small margin of only one egg it is believed from the general condition of the birds, their disposition to broodiness and other considerations that the American hens will hold the lead at least for the next few weeks.

The total yield for all pens amounted to 1,864 which is one egg better than the yield for last week and 181 eggs better than for the corresponding week last year. Of the five pens that deserve honorable mention for the week three were foreign entries. Ed Cam's English Leghorns were first with 58 eggs, Barron's Leghorns were second with 57, and Dictograph Poultry Farm's Leghorns, West Nyack, N. Y., were third with 56. The Storrs Station sour milk pen of Leghorns and Johnathan Collinson's Black Leghorns tied with 55 eggs each.

The ten leading pens to date are as follows:

Hillview Poultry Farm, St. Albans, Vt., Rhode Island Reds 1,458.
Ed Cam, Houghton, near Preston, England, White Wyandottes 1,457.
Tom Barron, Catforth, near Preston, England, White Leghorns 1,441.
T. J. Collinson, Houghton, near Preston, England, Black Leghorns 1,420.
White Wyandottes 1,421.
F. M. Peasley, Cheshire, Conn., White Leghorns 1,422.
A. P. Robinson, Calverton, N. Y., White Leghorns 1,337.
The Collinsons, Houghton, Garstang, England, Black Leghorns 1,310.
Branford Farm, Groton, White Leghorns 1,305.

The leading Connecticut pens to date include:

George Bowles, Westport, White Leghorns 1,243.
Homer P. Deming, Winsted, Rhode Island Reds 1,234.
